Still pounding the lumber for a 200 average, the leading bowlers in the twenty-four-hour endurance contest at the Harlem Circle alleys, in One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street, near Third avenue, were at the close of the first twelve hours in apparently as good physical condition as at the start at 10 o'clock last night, and as fully confident that all world's records would be broken.

In the first twelve hours the John Koster-Jimmy Smith team led with a score of 3,433 pins in eighteen games, two more games and about 400 more pins than in the contest last year.

John Voorheis had individual score of 255. Several of the leaders had averages above 200.

When the bowlers came to the foul line for the opening game it was found that Billy Heinz, one of the stars who was to bowl as teammate of Smith had been stricken with appendicitis while awaiting his turn to go on the alleys, and Emanuel, a Sylvan Club bowler, was substituted. Heinz was taken to his home in Brooklyn.

The line-up for the first game and the scores were as follows: John Koster, 165; Willie Noack, 161; Jimmy Smith, 161; George Loehr, 156; Durand, 209; Danny Macdonald, 157; Joe Randell, 151; Billy Weingarth, 201; Joe Loehr, 224; Smith (Sylvan), 202; Harry Cohn, 159.

Willie Noack was on the alleys twelve hours before being relieved by George Haller. Several of the other leaders rolled continuously for ten hours.

The eighteenth game, finished shortly before 10 o'clock this morning, showed the following results: John Koster, 165; George Haller, 156; Durand, 209; Danny Macdonald, 157; Joe Randell, 151; Billy Weingarth, 201; Joe Loehr, 224; Smith (Sylvan), 202; Harry Cohn, 159.

For Ten Years Donnelly Had Been Employed at the Fifth Avenue.

James Donnelly, a waiter at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, for ten years, was waited on by the employees of the office, died to-day at his post of duty. He was stricken suddenly as he was ascending the servants' staircase with a tray, and died before the surgeon who was summoned immediately could reach him. Donnelly was the husband of several children at No. 335 Second avenue. The cause of his death was heart disease.

Koster rolled continuously at the start; Noack, 17; Roedel, 8; Flower, 9; Smith, 8 and Cohn, 12.

MOTHER DIES, CHILDREN ALONE IN A NEW LAND.

Mrs. Delaschefsky's Husband Fails to Meet Family at the Pier.

Mrs. Grischa Delaschefsky died in St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, to-day from blood poisoning which developed from a fall on board the steamer Grischa when on the way to the land of promise with her four children. The children are at Ellis Island in the care of Esther, eleven years old, awaiting some word from the father, who is said to be at Orontes, Syria.

When Mrs. Delaschefsky was knocked down on board Grischa, her ankle was broken. When the steamer arrived at Hoboken she was taken to the hospital, but the doctors were unable to turn the tide of blood poisoning. Her foot was amputated.

So far the Ellis Island officials have received no word from the father. The son, George, has been asked to locate him. The mother and children arrived in New York penniless. Before she died she gave $100 to her husband, who had sent her the passage money, and promised to meet his family when the ship arrived in New York.

At breakfast-to-day at Ellis Island one of the matrons told Esther that her mother had gone to Hoboken to last look at their mother, and then placed temporarily in the care of the Jewish Aid Society.

AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

cel, held on the request of the New York police, Frugel is charged with grand larceny by Mrs. Martha Brigham, of No. 113 West Ninety-eighth street.

Mrs. Brigham told the police that Frugel had taken from her home four rings, a gold watch and chain, four diamond rings and $100 in money. When questioned about the details by Sergeant Dunn, temporary chief of detectives, she said that it was a "family affair."

Dunn sent her to the Tombs Court to get a warrant, and the information traced Frugel to Baltimore.

How many women realize that it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely?

The American Mission to Fez, consisting of Minister Gummere, Commander J. C. Fremont, United States Naval Attaché at Paris; Capt. William S. Guignard, Military attaché at Paris; W. O. L. Gummere's special secretary, and Mr. Gummere's receptionist, were at the close of the first twelve hours in apparently as good physical condition as at the start at 10 o'clock last night, and as fully confident that all world's records would be broken.

During the conversation the Sultan said that he wished to show the Americans the most valuable honor not given to any other nation, that of the first American Minister at Fez being allowed to be considered the Minister to his nearest friend.

Since that time the American attachés have left Fez and Mr. Iselin has come back to the United States and is understood to be returning to the State Department at Washington.

Commander Fremont and Capt. Guignard rode back from Fez in five days, leaving their escort trailing in the rear. Capt. Guignard when last heard from was at Tangier and Commander Fremont in Paris.
